LA RUFFE

Ruby red in colour. The nose is highly representative of the best Carignan can give when it is at its pinnacle. It is typical of this terroir of red shale mounds known as "ruffes", with aromas of laurel, garrigue, boxwood, peat, and black olive. In the mouth it is powerful but precise with good tension, and elegant, melting tannins that bring an agreeable sensation of freshness. Red stone fruit mingles with notes of truffle and spices, but also a certain salinity. An exceptionally harmonious wine of great complexity for drinking without reservation to discover a truly unique terroir.

Vinification

Harvesting began on 5 September 2019 with the Syrah at perfect maturity, followed by the Carignan on 15 September and the Grenache Noir on 20 September. All were transported to the cellar in small crates which were emptied into a de-stemmer placed above the 10 HL fermentation tanks. Maceration lasted 2 weeks for the Syrah and 4 weeks for the Carignan and the Grenache Noir at a temperature of 25°C. The wine was then raked into barrels for its malolactic fermentation.

Élevage

Aged for 12 months in barrels two wines old. The wine is unfined.
